

Sales and Service Compliance Manual

1. Regulatory Compliance

All sales and service activities must comply with telecommunications regulations. Non-compliance may result in penalties or license suspension.

2. Documentation Requirements

Proper documentation for all transactions is mandatory for auditability. Missing documentation triggers review and corrective action.

3. Compliance Training

Employees must complete compliance training annually. Training covers data handling, fair sales practices, and customer rights.

4. Monitoring and Auditing

Regular audits assess compliance adherence. Audit results are reviewed quarterly with management.

5. Non-Compliance Consequences

Violations of compliance requirements lead to disciplinary actions including retraining, suspension, or termination.
